Subject: Vehicle Sales Agreements - please print out for Ron - thank you!

Dear Jennifer,

Attached please find Vehicle Sales Agreements for the 4 cars we're selling to Ron:

- 1951 VW Beetle Standard
- 1951 VW Beetle Convertible
- 1956 VW Karmann-Ghia Coupé
- 1958 VW Karmann-Ghia Convertible

For each car, there are two PDF-files. File names are identical, except for the extension '(1)'. The latter are for US customs and taxes with a lower purchase price given in USD. The others show the actual purchase prices in EUR for our eyes only.

Please be so kind and print out for Ron to sign. Once he has done so, please scan in and send back to me in electronic form. If possible with the same file names.

Thank you so much and kind regards,
Johan

I'm not accepting, you must send it same way the 135k was sent, I will then ship the cars. This was our agreement and all plan was made for this. I won't take your offer, note even we argue this 1 million times, I won't accept your offer. The more you talk all these the more it sound like you never trust me.

The earlier you understand that I only want you remit the fund to the company account, I don't want other option. It's so annoying you suddenly having trust issue, how can you send 135k with trust and suddenly can't trust to send the balance. The fact that you don't trust me is another reason I won't accept any other option than you sending to account. When I receive fund, I ship out your cars and I will be satisfied.

I'm not afraid of anything as you think, this just a case of maintaining company business ethics. I only want everything done the way we have done our many deals. Even if I agreed to it, the boards member won't allow it. If you continue this way, this won't end well for because the more time, the more the bills accumulate. You are really causing yourself stress on this deal, I have done all my part but you never allow me to finalizing the deal as you prolong this matter more further. It amaze me you think I will jeopardize my image or reputation to cheat you? I suffered to build this brand, I have done several deals, my license would have been seized if I have cheated someone before, go research on my record, you won't fund anything. The earlier you listen, the better for you. Be rest assure that you will get your cars safe and sound if payment is completed. Stop worrying about changing of accounts, this shouldn't be your problem as I already said this several times. All you need now is have have trust and see the positive result. Anytime you ready, let me know so I can provide account details.

Johan

Ron,
First of all, you need stop ignoring whatever e-mail you getting about not receiving the fund, take such e-mail as impersonator. I received the fund which I made it acknowledge several times, we won't have this stress if you have listen to me. I remember how I keep telling you to stop worry about how I get the funds, your concern should be you getting your cars. You worrying about change of accounts were unnecessary, I told you reason why account were change, I told you about the problems because I want transparency, but you never believe because you having a serious trust issues due to your past experience. We are not into money laundering or any shady deals, we have several account and we use them according to the size of fund and it was another way for us to reduce tax.

I'm usually a very busy person but I abandon many of my schedules just to get your job done, you even ask me for many evidence. I did everything despite the boards member going against it, because they feel you will be difficult to work with, which I later regret not listening to them.

I got disgraced and pressured here from people I need settle, I pleaded with you several times to listen to me, you were so stubborn about your escrow decision. I remember you were bragging about you having many flat you get rents from, talking about going to Indonesia. It was then I realize you don't care about how I feel, it was really sad. So I decide to leave you, if your 135k is important to you, you will follow my instruction. I'm not afraid of meeting your escrow agent, but it was the boards member decision and also my stand too as well. I'm not ready to shift or bend, it must be on my terms. I can assure you you getting the cars if you remit the balance.

It's important you know you will be paying extra $6,200 for accumulated fines and you will be sending the fund to a different account this time. I'm ready whenever you decide to be ready too. Have a great night rest.

Regards,
Johan

I never wanted to cheat you, I would say you are the one making the whole thing difficult for yourself. I don't understand how you concluded it was scam or a fraudulent wire. You need to understand that your money was never lost but the condition is that I can't send it back. I have spent months and I have also invested in this process, so the only option is completing the payment, then you get you cars without delay or problem. The obstacle we have been having is your refusal agreeing to my terms, had it been you agreed to my terms all these while, your cars should be with you by now. You worried about changing of account which I told you several times never to worry about, getting your cars should be your priority not how fund is been sent. I can decide the fund to be sent to any account, it's my business, I should be the one to chose which best way for me to receive fund but you prolong this till now dragging the whole process backward. I warn you about the law here, you can't get your fund back even if any lawyer is involved, this can only be solved between you and I. It will be better you listen early or else this will remain for long period.

We can settle with the escrow agreement, or my representative to come there and take delivery of the cars and pay the balance owed. The fact that you aren't willing to do that, which is so reasonable, demonstrates to me that you never intended to sell the cars, you just wanted to cheat me.

Routing and acct number
Phone number of recipient.

I promise I am not being hard to deal with, last week it was like pulling teeth to wire money to Italy, the guy sent me a copy of a check, bank rejected it, then he send bank address, they rejected it, then he sent swift code, then they rejected it, then he provided his phone no, the wire went. I've spent 3 hours with IT specialists from GoDaddy (my email provider) yesterday and today. We know how the hacker operated and can prove that the mails you sent in the past 1,5 weeks were never delivered to my inbox. We've made several security updates. Hopefully the hacker will no longer be able to send phishing emails from my

It will take 24-48 hours for me to be able to send and receive emails from my account again, as a complete reset was done. After that it should work as before.
